

Hey friend,

I hope you enjoy this free sample of my favorite songs to license for films from Soundstripe, Musicbed, and Artlist. I've also included some examples and inspiration for how I would use these songs in a wedding film.

If you would like more song recommendations, you can check out the other song lists available on Matt's Music List.

Cabin Love by Sounds Like Sander - You won't have to live in a cabin to love this upbeat and happy song. Due to its positive nature, it would work great as the couple is getting ready for the wedding.

Gentle Waters by Wild Wonder - Two of our favorite Soundstripe artists team up for a complex building melody of guitar and drums that feels downright romantic when the oohs hit at 2:13. Let that musical goodness wash all over you and footage of your couples as they enjoy their first dance.

Never Let You Go by My Buddy Mike - Fast EDM song with lyrics that are perfect for a couple in love. This would make for a fun reception dance edit for a couple who could handle it.

Solace by Wes Hael - Slow building tune that feels triumphant and epic with a large hit at the 2:21 mark. This would match the more serious moments of a wedding such as the ceremony or first look.

Do You Want Me by The Roosevelts - Straight up funky romance from this upbeat tune. We would be all over this for a fun reception edit. Do you want me this song asks? Yes. Yes we do. Instrumental available as well.

Ariana Part 2 by Tony Anderson - Tony's back baby! Subtle guitar and breathy vocals give this song a nice complexity without being overwhelming. Due to its ambient nature, pair this song with some couple prep or other calm moment on a wedding day. Side note: "Ariana - Part 1" is also real good.

Wildflowers by WILLIS - Acoustic guitar? Check. Mandolin? Check. Clapping hands? Check. This tune sounds like a country/folk song while feeling positive and energetic. If your couple has more country vibes, this song would work perfectly for morning prep.

Doing The Right Thing by Borrtext - Building ambient track that feels uplifting and soaring. A moment such as the first look or walk down the aisle would match this songs expectant tone.

Stepping out by Ted - Ted brings depth and emotion to the electronic genre in a way that feels romantic and energetic! This song would work equally well as a couple prep or dance depending on if your couple can handle it.
